LEADERIMPACT CALGARY SPOTLIGHT

Special Lunch with James Gardiner

DISCOVERING PURPOSE: A Leader's Transition From Success to Significance

Integrating business, life & faith

James Gardiner worked in commercial banking for 30 years in progressively senior leadership positions, culminating in his final executive roles with Bank of Montreal as Regional Vice President, Commercial Banking, where he oversaw a balance sheet portfolio of $4.3B and Head of Business Development for Western Canada.

In mid 2020, James retired from his banking career. He then stepped into the role of Chief Executive Officer of The Mustard Seed in March 2024. The Mustard Seed is a 40-year-old Christian charity whose mission is “to build hope and well-being in our most vulnerable citizens through Jesus’ love.” Operating in 7 cities in western Canada, The Mustard Seed is a significant regional organization of 760 employees operating out of 28 locations to eliminate homelessness and reduce poverty.

James has a passion for serving to empower individuals and families to break free from the cycle of poverty and homelessness. Join us as James shares powerful lessons from his life and career, reflecting on how his journey in banking shaped his leadership skills and how he is now applying them in a new setting—one that aligns with his true life calling.
